COUNCILMAN SPOTTED BEAR'S GREETINGS

Tashkanito'sha Numakaki Aame,

Greetings to all,

I would like to extend my condolences to all the families that have lost loved ones. Our people are a close knit tribe and it affects us all when we lose a loved one. We come from the same people and we know each other's families. I would also like to express my compassion to all those who might be battling an illness, or going through some sort of challenge. Things will get better.

There is a lot going on with our Tribe today and a lot to write about. We had a good summer in Twin Buttes and many accomplishments were made.

Most recently we had a grand opening for our new west housing recreational areas. We hosted a great event and had a very special guest, Mr. Billy Mills. Billy is the 1964 Olympic gold medalist in the 10,000 meter run in Tokyo Japan. He has a great message to share with everyone especially Native American youth. Billy's message is filled with hope and encouragement. It was sure a treat to have him in the community. I noticed he took time for everyone young and old. His visit to our community is something I will always remember.

The new Twin Buttes elder's activity and heritage center is now constructed and will soon be furnished and opened for use. Our elders will now have a nice place to gather, share a meal, and socialize. Once the building is furnished we will celebrate with a ribbon cutting ceremony and we will all share a nice meal together for the first time in the new building.

The construction on the new Twin Buttes community center is coming along nicely and soon we will start to see the pre-cast concrete walls go up in the air. This is a project I am very excited about as it will affect our community in such a positive way. We are still looking at this coming summer for project completion.

Twelve new lots are nearly completed for the new trailer park north of the school. The center street was paved earlier this summer and now the new trailers are being set and nearly complete. These are very nice new homes.

This fall and winter we will be planning the next projects to complete. One of the projects that is in the cue is a new clinic, as our existing clinic is very old and outdated. We are very thankful for the services that we do have and our service providers and it is time we build a new clinic to meet the needs of our community members. We will also work on establishing our own ground ambulance in Twin Buttes. Mandaree and White Shield communities have provided us an excellent model to follow in establishing our own.

We will plan and build an equestrian area next spring and summer that will include an Indian relay race track, rv connections, parking lot, and a rodeo and roping arena. We will also finish the remaining five round homes that will complete our round "earthlodge style" home initiative near the new softball field area.

In addition, we recently received 51 head of one and two year old bison, all females, from the bandlands state park in the Black Hills of South Dakota. We now have 61 bison, all donated to us, with two unexpected bison calves born this past May and June--one heifer "May," and one bull "June."

I will continue to keep the newsletter going and inform the membership and the community throughout the year. In closing, I am thankful to serve our People for another four years. I wish everyone all my best with love and encouragement as we enter our holiday season.

*Hahoo, a'taro'sh.

MEDICINE STONE NAMED ND VFW COMMANDER

Darcy Medicine Stone (ND VFW Commander)

MHA Vietnam Veteran Unanimously Selected as Head of the State VFW, Traditional Honoring will Take Place at Twin Buttes Pow Wow

The Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) recognized the hard work and dedication of MHA Nation tribal member and veteran Darcy Medicine Stone last week in Fargo at their VFW State Convention. The recognition came from his unanimous selection as the new North Dakota VFW State Commander. Medicine Stone is now at the head of the North Dakota VFW after having served as the Senior Vice-Commander for the organization. He has also served as surgeon, judge advocate, and Junior Vice-Commander while a member of the VFW Post 9061 in Twin Buttes.

Medicine Stone is an MHA Nation tribal member and he will be honored on Sunday, June 17th at the Twin Buttes Pow Wow Celebration at 11 a.m.

“I want the help of all the Low Caps and invite them to all come out on Sunday to support me at the honoring. I would appreciate it and to also to see a lot of my fellow veterans there,” Medicine Stone emphasized.

Medicine Stone is a Vietnam War veteran who served in the United States Army from May 1966 to April 1969. The proud veteran places his responsibility as state commander as a very high priority, like he has all of his roles within the VFW and other organizations he has been involved in. His wife, Clarice Medicine Stone is a strong supporter of her husband and was able to be present in the ceremony that officially made Medicine Stone the North Dakota VFW State Commander. The oath for the state commander was given to Medicine Stone from Wayne Paulson, who is on the VFW national committee. Paulson was named by Medicine Stone after the ceremony to be the new ND VFW Chief of Staff.

Medicine Stone said he “worked hard for it”, but being the state commander does not change his focus in any way. He has always been heavily involved and connected with veteran organizations while helping fellow veterans since the time he returned home to the Fort Berthold Reservation in 1988. Since he started as a member of the VFW, Medicine Stone has put forth his best effort in all of the goals and the primary mission of the VFW.

Medicine Stone also was given a special certificate from the Boy Scouts of America for his work over the years with that organization. He is proud of that accomplishment as well and he appreciates that national youth organization’s recognition.

2017 US NAVY GRADUATE MONIQUE BELL

Submitted by Diana Tomlin

Monique Bell, daughter of Michelle Tomlin-Grisham and Marlon Bell has certainly made a name for herself and for her home of Twin Buttes, ND!

Enlisting in the Navy in 2017, Monique persevered and graduated from the Great Lakes Boot Camp in Illinois in May 2017 with very high scores. In fact, she was selected to carry her company flag during the graduation ceremony, an honor for only a select few.

After graduation, Monique headed to Norfolk, Virginia to complete her training as a jet mechanic. Upon completing her training, Monique was stationed on the USS Harry Truman, an eight Nimitz-class Aircraft Carrier. Her ship is 1,092 feet long, 257 feet wide and as high as a 24-story building.

After graduation, Monique headed to Norfolk, Virginia to complete her training as a jet mechanic. Upon completing her training, Monique was stationed on the USS Harry Truman, an eight Nimitz-class Aircraft Carrier. Her ship is 1,092 feet long, 257 feet wide and as high as a 24-story building.

On April 11, 2018, Monique was deployed for the Mediterranean Sea to the Atlantic Ocean. During her deployment, the USS Harry Truman conducted bilateral operations with allies and partners in both U.S. 5th and 6th fleets, to include Egypt, Morocco, Italy, France, Germany and the United Kingdom.

The Truman Carrier Strike Group had an incredibly successful 3 months in the U.S. 6th Fleet area of responsibility. It accomplished every objective established for its crew from striking ISIS in Syria to expanding partnerships with our country's friends and allies.

The USS Truman returned to Norfolk, VA in July 2018. It was then that ADAN Bell had her name, rank and where she is from placed on an F-18 jet. This is quite an honor and makes her the plane's captain. ADAN Bell is entirely responsible for this plane - wherever it goes, she must go.

Monique Bell is truly taking our home, Twin Buttes, ND, to new heights! Carry on ADAN Bell - we are proud of you and your service to our country!

1964 Tokyo Olympics

Olympic Medalist Billy Mills visits the Home of the Champions

"It's the journey not the destination that empowers us, I sensed the sacred journey of your community when I met Cory"
"Choreograph the horizon of your destiny"
"It's the daily decisions we make in life not just the talent we possess that choreographs our destiny"

"Global Unity through the dignity, through the character, through the beauty Global Diversity. Unity through Diversity is the definition of our most powerful prayer we are all related."

"Look inside your heart your mind, your body and your spirit. Look way down deep and that's where your dreams are"

"You got to find your dream, it's the pursuit of a dream that heals broken wings; it's the pursuit of a dream that heals a broken soul."

These opening remarks made by Billy Mills really hit the core of me, again I am inspired and reminded to do the daily. Discipline myself to do daily duties, clean my house, do my dishes, do the laundry, make my bed, do the unfun things in life. Pay attention to my finances, pay my bills, don't over spend. Be more disciplined and do what I need to do in the moment. In the moment of each day doing the right thing, will bring me good results that will help me rather than hurt me. Pay more attention to others around me. Help more often. Daily duties, making good choices, creating good habits, creates good character.

It's the little things in life that define us. I was taught to believe this and I do believe it. I like how Billy Mills said it; "It's the daily decisions we make in life that choreograph the horizon our destiny"

Billy Mills took us on his journey of the race that day, and It was "Magical." He shared his dream, he shared his journey and he shared his heart and encouraged everyone around him to do the same, find your dream, find your passion and pursue them.

In your pursuit you will heal your broken wings, you will heal your broken soul. We all have broken wings.

NU'ETA LANGUAGE INITIATIVE

Submitted by Indrek Park
Linguist, Nu'eta Language Initiative
Mandan, Hidatsa, and Arikara Nation

'MANDAN' IN OTHER LANGUAGES

The designation Mandan has been borrowed into English from the languages of the eastern tribes who first provided second-hand information about a powerful tribe living in large towns on the banks of the Missouri. The Lakota and Yanktonai miwatani, Yankton and Omaha-Ponca mawatani, and Assiniboine mayatani are ancient terms whose exact meaning has been forgotten, but it is likely they may have meant 'the people of the river bank.'

The Hidatsa name for Mandan is aroxbagua or aroxbagua ruxbaaga.

There are two interpretations of the word aroxbagua.

The first interpretation is fairly straightforward and means 'people at the confluence.' Since a confluence is a place where two rivers join to become one, it clearly refers to the area around the mouth of the Heart River where the different subdivisions of the Mandan people used to live. These towns were abandoned after the smallpox epidemic of 1781 when the survivors moved upriver to the Knife River.

The original territory of the Mandan around the Heart River has been overtaken by the urban sprawl of Bismarck and Mandan (the city), but the remains of the original Mandan towns are still clearly visible in the area.

The second interpretation of the term aroxbagua refers to the Hidatsa migration story.

Carol Ann Fredericks Newman heard the story from her grandfather Charlie Snow. According to Charlie Snow, a long time ago the Hidatsa and Mandan were one people who lived in the south. At some point the people started migrating northwards. During this process, which took hundreds of years, small groups finally started arriving in their present-day location in North Dakota. When the last groups arrived, they said that they were aru'axbi, or 'all that remains'. Over the centuries, their way of speaking had diverged to the point that one group of dialects became known as the Hidatsa and the second group as the Mandan.

The Pawnee name for Mandan is piitakariitu', literally 'stone men'. The Arikara have shortened this name to kanit 'stone'.

In many other languages the name that designates the Mandan refers to the earthlodges that set them apart from the nomadic tribes. The Blackfoot, Cheyenne, and Chippewa all call the Mandan 'earthlodge dwellers'. The Crow and the Kiowa designation is 'lodges at the end'.

There are several ways to describe the Mandan in the Plains sign language. It is possible that the different signs originally referred to the various subdivisions of the Mandan people.

The most common sign, which is made by scratching motion from the lower lip to the chin, as if painting vertical stripes there, may have originally been a designation reserved for the Istoppe, or Tattooed Faces subdivision of the Mandan people.

Both the Arikara and Mandan are often described by a sign that indicates shelling corn. This is not surprising considering that prior to the smallpox epidemic of 1781, the southernmost Mandan and northernmost Arikara lived in close proximity to each other, were heavily intermarried, and shared many cultural practices.

Another sign, which is exclusively used by the Crow, also suggests a historical and cultural affinity between the Mandan and the Arikara. The Crow name for the Arikara is ahparroopise 'big ear holes', but in the sign language they use the sign 'big holes in the ears made for wearing earrings' for the Mandan.

HORSEMINT HONEY INITIATIVE

Twin Buttes Horsemint Honeybees is a new exciting initiative supported by Councilman Spotted Bear. By pollinating plants and flowers, bees naturally sustain the environment, while providing one of the most delicious and healing compounds on earth - honey! Woodsworth Honey out of Halliday, ND is a national leader in beekeeping, and is providing South Segment staff Jessica White Plume and Cynthia Baumann training for one year, along with four hives. These four hives will provide over 200 pounds of honey for the Twin Buttes Community.

Next year, we plan to expand and market our signature Horsemint Honey. The name reflects the unique makeup of our honey. Our honey's distinctive flavor is created by the bees from the nectar of the abundant nearby horsemint flowers, also called Bergamot - which is known to have traditional native medicinal properties. Look for the Twin Buttes Horsemint Honey samples coming soon!

- People 65 or older
- Under 65 with certain disabilities
- People of any age with End Stage Renal Disease (ESRD) (permanent kidney failure requiring dialysis or a kidney transplant)

Part A & Part B Enrollment

When can I sign up? There are 3 times you can sign up for Medicare:

- Initial Enrollment Period—If you're eligible for Medicare when you turn 65, you can sign up during your Initial Enrollment Period. This is a 7-month period that begins 3 months before the month you turn 65, includes the month you turn 65, and ends 3 months after the month you turn 65.
- You can sign up for free Medicare Part A (Hospital Insurance) (if you're eligible) any time after your Initial Enrollment Period starts. Your Part A coverage will start 6 months back from the date you apply for Medicare (or Social Security/RRB benefits), but no earlier than the first month you were eligible for Medicare. You can only sign up for Part A (if you have to buy it) and/or Medicare Part B (Medical Insurance) during the times listed below.

- To get Part A (if you have to buy it) and/or Part B the month you turn 65, you must sign up during the first 3 months before the month you turn 65. If you wait until the last 4 months of your Initial Enrollment Period to sign up for Part A (if you have to buy it) and/or Part B, your coverage will be delayed. See the chart on the next page.
